

Stroke Classification

The goal of the project is to build a classification model to detect stroke and evaluate the model using some performance metrics.

Depending on ROC Curve as you see in the above picture, we can assume that the best model is Logistic Regression.